

Tag Institute for Jewish Social Values has launched its workshops on

BULLYING AND SOCIAL EXCLUSION

Among Children and Young Adults

Bullying can be passive and social exclusion can be inadvertent. Our workshops help to raise awareness and affect change to encourage inclusion, sensitivity and responsibility.

We offer two kinds of workshops:

For adults
parents, teachers, youth leaders

For children
junior/senior schools, youth clubs

Our workshops use games and interactions to create awareness amongst children and young adults to reduce inadvertent social exclusion.

Please email rivkie@taginstitute.org to discuss running a workshop in your school, community or youth group
